WELCOME TO EICHARDT'S BAR

Welcome to the iconic Eichardt's bar. A historic venue dating back to 1859. Originally a woolshed, the gold rush created an opportunity for a hotel and bar. The hotel prospered and a town built around it. Eichardt's bar has been a focal point in the town ever since. During its evolution, the bar has at times stretched across the entire ground floor and there have even been nightclubs based upstairs. After the flood in 1999 the bar was turned into the cosy beautifully designed tapas bar you are now enjoying. We ensure highly professional staff offering extensive wine knowledge, exquisite cocktails and great service.

Terroir - flavour profile given to wine from its unique growing location and climate. At Eichardt's, we believe this applies to all foods. That is why wherever possible we source from small local growers who put the same level of love into growing the food as we are putting into cooking it. Our chefs use their local knowledge to forage what we can, for example wild thyme from Gibbston, walnuts from Lake Hayes and mushrooms from Moke Lake. We endeavour to make our own end products. For example, we produce our own sourdough with wild Wakatipu yeast. This is all to bring the unique Otago flavours to the fore.

PREMIUM WINE FLIGHT

The Pinot Noir Experience

— $49 —

We offer you a chance to sample three great examples of pinot noir against each other, showcasing three of the subregions of Central Otago, and a variety of styles. Central Otago is the most noted pinot noir region to emerge in the last 30 years. Virtually pollution and disease free with a great hot days and cold nights (perfect pinot growing weather)

The vines are now old enough to truly express the terroir leading to clear subregions with their own distinct characters. Rugged landscapes with drier soils make the pinot vines work to find water which helps to define the unique flavours.

Here at Eichardts we really do appreciate the craft and artistry of distillation as much as anyone, and gin very much falls in at the top end of craft distillation.

Gin evolved from genever in the 17th Century, a Dutch/Belgian liquor, it became widespread throughout London and the rest of England in the late 17th and early 18th Centuries, a period known as the gin craze.

Many different varieties and styles have been produced over many years throughout England and many other countries including styles such as Old Tom, London Dry, Rhubarb, Damson, 'pink', Spiced, Violet and Sloe gin.

Nowadays there are thousands all over the world and gin is booming again, the last decade has seen the 'gin craze' kick in once more and tonic has played a huge role in it's popularity.

Here, we focus on some of our favourite New Zealand gins, many of which have received great acclaim across the globe. We pair them with premium tonic waters from Fever-Tree.

Interesting fact: the word gin is a short version of the old English word 'genever' which is a variant of the Dutch word 'jenever'.. ultimately all derive from juniperus; latin for juniper; gins predominant botanical.

Cheers!

PREMIUM NEW ZEALAND GIN PAIRINGS

- Black Robin (Fever-Tree Light, Strawberry, Basil, Lime & Peppercorn) 20
A well decorated gin, that pays tribute to the Chatham Islands endangered Black Robin, whilst contributing toward saving New Zealand's native wildlife. Five times distilled using a copper reflux still with a unique blend of botanicals including horopito and lemongrass.
- Broken Heart (Fever-Tree Mediterranean, Lime, Apple & Mint) 20
A wonderfully balanced classic style gin reflecting the Central Otago summer, showcasing some citrus and spice aromas around a juniper backbone, with beautiful lavender notes.
- Roots Marlborough Dry (Fever-Tree Light, Grapefruit, Juniper & Rosemary) 20
A classic style gin 'small batch' gin made in a 200 litre copper pot still using both locally grown and native New Zealand botanicals, including gorse flower and kawakawa berries.
- Source Barrel-Aged (Fever-Tree Aromatic, Cinnamon, Orange & Star Anise) 22
A rich and complex gin from the Cardrona Valley, mellowed with barrel-ageing in seasoned wines casks from top local wineries. Rosehip & juniper at it's heart with some citrus notes
- Rifters Blue (Fever-Tree Elderflower, Pineapple, Mint, Cardamom) 23
Combining warm earthy and citrus tones found in this enhanced dry gin, with notes of elderflower, pineapple, and mint. This pairing is a homage to the quintessential Queenstown experience - remarkable.
- Scapegrace Gold (Fever-Tree Indian, Blood Orange, Thyme & Clove) 24
A full-bodied, navy strength gin with 13 botanicals including a unique addition of tangerine peel. Paying tribute to traditional gin production but still a little rebellious.
